LYNCHBURG FIRE IS UNDER CONTROL

Another Cave-In May Come, However, as Result of Burning Tunnel,

DAMAGE IS VERY HEAVY

LYNCHBURG, VA., August 13.—After sixty hours from the time the five was discovered the biaze in the Southern tunnel here seems to be under control to-night, though the contractor in charge of the work would not venture to say the five was out. At best here trol to-night, though the contractor in charge of the work would not ventuate to say the fire was out. At best be could only hope this condition prevailed in the tunnel. The northern end, which is the remotest one from the fire, has been closed up with a bulkhead of timber and dirt authrough this all the steam three boilers can generate is being sent in the hope of the vapor completely extinguished the burning timbers. The most effective piece of work seems to have been a single hose, which was turned into the crumbling surface of Water Street. This water percolates down on the fire and created a steam which could not escape. Later this evening a scout was sent in the tunnel from the north, and he reported the fire diminished, with good prospects of the damage going no further.

Hopes of Restoration.

Just before sundown a number of teams with scoops were put to work to refill the surface of Rivermont Avenue, for the steam rallway company ne, for the steam fallway company hopes to restore this break to-morrow. The break under the track is about sixty feet wide and ranges from six its twenty-five feet deep. If the street does not sink more this will be accomplished. Just 400 of the 1,300 feet of the tunnel has been burned out, though it is hoped that the southern mouth and inneteen feet of the timbering can be saved.

Contractor Elivier said to-night that it would be foolbardy to attempt an estimate of the damage, but it must be several huwdred thousand dollars, not to consider the delay in complet.

Among the curous Christmas presents

Among the curous Christmas presents of this year will be one for a man of national reputation, which has been all year in the making.

Way last January the present was decided upon, and a friend of the prominent gentleman requested the Burrelle Press Clipping Bureau, of New York, to watch every paper in America, and to take up every item which appeared concerning the man.

The clipping bureau people followed instructions, and now present the history of one year in the life of this especial man.

The history ends just after election, and the 20,642 newspaper items found include everything from a three-line editorial mention to full-page illustrated stories. Thise have been mounted on 3,200 great sheets of, Irish linen paper and bound into three massive volumes.

At the head of each item is the name and date of paper clipped from, this inserted amount to 153,852.

In actual time, a very strict record of which has been kept, the work has required sixty-four working days throughout the year, and has kept in employment during that time thirty people as readers, clippers, sorters, mounters and binders. Every newspaper of importance is represented.

This is merely a specimen of the property of the unions.

This is merely a specimen of some of the unique orders which get into the Burrelle Bureau, for the extent to which clippings are used by individuals and by business concerns seems to be remarkable. chappings are used by individuals and by business concerns seems to be remarkable.

There are many people in private as well as in public life who need press clippings and don't know it. It might be well for them to look up this man Burrelle, who is said to be so well known that a letter simply addressed "Burrelle New York." will reach him with no delay.

—Since it has been announced that Congressman H. D. Flood and John L. of Bristol Tenn, on account of a seizure of about 12,000 gallons of alcohol because of the alleged fraud against the internal revenue laws, has been rejected by Acting Commissioner Wheeler.

The seizure was made several weeks ago, and M. F. Tester, the government gauger, was arrested for conspiracy to defraud the government out of the tax due on distilled spirits. Though the exact nature of the compromise proposed has not been revealed by the internal revenue commissioner, it is understood that the company offered to pay a fine of $5,000 and costs to obtain the release of the alcohol and immunity from prosecution.

This amount, it is saild, does not represent the amount of tax which the government believes it has lost through the alleged violation of the second Tuesday in July, a negro man named Ed.
